Who would you elect?

Waverley Co-op is having an election for 4 directors. There are descriptions of the candidates who have been nominated below. Who would you vote for? (Pick four).

1. Jose Gomez has served one term on the board and is standing for re-election. He attends all the meetings but is quite quiet.

2. Lester Leung is a single father with two small daughters. He has served on the board at his church.

3. Vicki Madziak is on four committees and chairs two of them. She is a senior and has plenty of time to give to the co-op.

4. Sue Michaels was voted the "neighbour of the year" last year by the co-op members. When another member was undergoing treatments at the hospital, Sue fed the members' kids breakfast and drove them to school every day.

5. Mai Lee really knows the co-op's by-laws. She always brings them to members' meetings and is able to quote from them.

6. Chris Valeriote has lived in the co-op for a year and has been at all the members' meetings. He has spoken once or twice at the meetings and made good comments.

7. Kelly Harper works in a bank and has served on the finance committee. She ran once before and was not elected to the board.

8. Seth Weld has grown up in the co-op. He is 18 and has just become eligible under the Act to run for the board. He became a member when he was sixteen.
